Level 3 Award for Safe People Handling & Risk Assessment Trainers

Course Background

Content:

This course consists of two mandatory units covering theory and practical knowledge of the principles and practice that underpin the safe movement of people and risk assessment in care and nursing home environments. Learners are required to pass both units to achieve the qualification*. Workbook completion and submission is required to support your learning across both days.

Our programme is OFQUAL regulated and accredited by ROSPA Qualifications, ensuring the most robust quality assurance of any training of this type. We meet and exceed the required standards set out by the Care Quality Commission in all required areas.

All attendees receive access to our comprehensive online training portal with access to a wealth of reference material including training videos, safe systems of work, legislation guidance, training manuals and more.

Course aims:

To develop understanding of the principles and practice that underpin the safe movement of people and risk assessment in care and nursing home environments, alongside health and safety, welfare, human rights legislative requirements and best practice. It will facilitate knowledge of how to train others in the safe movement of people.
